CARSON SMITHFIELD, LLC,	}	Jury Trial Demanded
Defendant.	}

INTRODUCTION

1. This class action seeks redress for collection practices that violate the Fair Debt Collection Practices Act, 15 U.S.C. § 1692 et seq. (the “FDCPA”).

JURISDICTION AND VENUE

2. The court has jurisdiction to grant the relief sought by the Plaintiff pursuant to 15 U.S.C. § 1692k and 28 U.S.C. §§ 1331 and 1337. Venue in this District is proper in that Defendant directed its collection efforts into the District.

PARTIES

3. Plaintiff Gordon Sievert is an individual who resides in the Eastern District of Wisconsin (Milwaukee County).

4. Plaintiff is a “consumer” as defined in the FDCPA, 15 U.S.C. § 1692a(3), in that Defendant sought to collect from him a debt allegedly incurred for personal, family or household purposes.

5. Defendant Carson Smithfield, LLC (“Carson Smithfield”) is a debt collection agency with its principal offices located at 1209 Orange St., Wilmington, DE 19801.

6. Carson Smithfield is engaged in the business of a collection agency, using the mails and telephone to collect consumer debts originally owed to others.

7. Carson Smithfield is engaged in the business of collecting debts owed to others and incurred for personal, family or household purposes. Carson Smithfield is a debt collector as defined in 15 U.S.C. § 1692a.

FACTS

8. On or about October 19, 2016, Carson Smithfield mailed a debt collection letter to Plaintiff Gordon Sievert regarding an alleged debt, allegedly owed “Merrick Bank Corporation.” A copy of this letter is attached to this complaint as Exhibit A.

9. Upon information and belief, the alleged debt that Carson Smithfield was attempting to collect was a personal credit card account, and used only for personal, family or household purposes.

10. Upon information and belief, Exhibit A is a form letter, generated by computer, and with the information specific to Plaintiff inserted by computer.

11. Upon information and belief, Exhibit A is a form debt collection letter used by Carson Smithfield to attempt to collect alleged debts.

12. Upon information and belief, Exhibit A is the first written communication that Carson Smithfield sent to Plaintiff regarding the alleged debt to which Exhibit A refers.

13. Exhibit A contains the following settlement offer:

Lump Sum (single payment)

Merrick Bank Corporation will consider your account settled if you make a one-time payment of $2,318.37 (which equals 60.0% of the outstanding balance of $3,863.95) on or before November 30, 2016.

14. The letter purports to offer settling the debt for about 60% of the total alleged debt.

15. The settlement offer in Exhibit A falsely states or implies that the settlement offer is valid only if payment is made on or before November 30, 2016. (Exhibit A).

16. Upon information and belief, Carson Smithfield had authority from Merrick to settle consumers' accounts for 60% of the amount owed, or less, at any time.

17. Statements such as a settlement offer is a "limited time offer," or that the offer expires on a specific date, or that payments must be received by that date, are false and misleading because the same offer is, upon information and belief, available at any time.

18. Such false statements are material false statements, as they impart in the unsophisticated consumer, a false belief that he or she must hurry to take advantage of a limited-time opportunity, when in reality, there is no such time limit.

19. The Seventh Circuit has established "safe harbor" language regarding settlement offers in collection letters:

As in previous cases in which we have created safe-harbor language for use in cases under the Fair Debt Collection Practices Act, we think the present concern can be adequately addressed yet the unsophisticated consumer still be protected against receiving a false impression of his options by the debt collector's including with the offer the following language: "We are not obligated to renew this offer." The word "obligated" is strong and even the unsophisticated consumer will realize that there is a renewal possibility but that it is not assured.

Evory v. RJM Acquisitions Funding L.L.C., 505 F.3d 769, 775-76 (7th Cir. 2007).

20. Carson Smithfield did not use the safe harbor language in Exhibit A. Instead, Carson Smithfield stated:

You are under no obligation to accept either of these offers. If you do not accept one of these settlement offers, we will attempt to contact you to collect the balance on your account, less any payments you may have made.

21. Upon information and belief, the deadline in Exhibit A to respond to the settlement offer is a sham. There is no actual deadline. The sole purpose of the purported deadline is to impart in the consumer a false sense of urgency.

22. Further, the above offer is stated to be valid if the settlement payment is made “on or before November 30, 2016.”

23. If Exhibit A was actually mailed on October 19, 2016, the 30 day validation period identified in Exhibit A would end only a few days before the settlement offer in Exhibit A expires. See 15 U.S.C. § 1692g(a).

24. Exhibit A is confusing to the unsophisticated consumer because it demands a payment within the validation period or shortly thereafter, but does not explain how the validation notice and settlement “deadline” fit together. Bartlett v. Heibl, 128 F.3d 497, 500 (7th Cir. 1997) (“In the typical case, the letter both demands payment within thirty days and explains the consumer’s right to demand verification within thirty days. These rights are not inconsistent, but by failing to explain how they fit together the letter confuses.”).

25. The unsophisticated consumer would have no idea how to both seek verification of the debt and preserve the settlement offer in Exhibit A.

26. The consumer needs time to process the information contained in an initial debt collection letter before deciding whether to dispute, pay or take other action. This is the point of the 30 day period in 15 U.S.C. 1692g(a).

27. Prior to deciding whether to dispute a debt, a consumer may have to sort through personal records and/or memories to try to remember if the debt might be legitimate. He may not recognize the creditor – debts are freely assignable and corporations, especially banks, often change names.

28. Moreover, once a consumer sends a dispute in writing, the creditor is under no obligation to provide verification in any specific amount of time, or even to provide verification at all, so long as the debt collector ceases collection efforts until it does so. Jang v. A.M. Miller &

Assocs., 122 F.3d 480, 483 (7th Cir. 1997) (“Section 1692g(b) thus gives debt collectors two options when they receive requests for validation. They may provide the requested validations and continue their debt collecting activities, or they may cease all collection activities.”)

29. The § 1692g validation period lasts for 30 days. It is the consumer’s right to request verification until the end of the thirty day period. If the request is not made until the end of the thirty day period, the verification request would not be processed, researched by the creditor, and returned to the consumer until long after settlement offer payment deadline has expired. The consumer would be left with no time to review the verification and determine whether to accept the settlement offer.

30. The unsophisticated consumer would have no idea how to both seek verification of the debt and preserve the settlement offer in Exhibit A. It is likely that the settlement offer would expire before the debt collector provides verification. The consumer would be left with little or no time to review the verification and determine whether to accept the settlement offer.

31. The effect of the settlement offer in the initial written debt communication is to discourage or prevent consumers from exercising their validation rights and to circumvent the statutory requirements of the FDCPA.

32. Defendant did not include adequate explanatory language in Exhibit A. See, eg. Bartlett, 128 F.3d 497, 501-02 (7th Cir. 1997).

33. Plaintiff was confused by Exhibit A.

34. Plaintiff had to spend time and money investigating Exhibit A and the consequences of any potential responses to Exhibit A.

35. Plaintiff had to take time to obtain and meet with counsel, including travel to counsel's office by car and its related expenses (including but not limited to the cost of gasoline and mileage), to advise Plaintiff on the consequences of Exhibit A.

36. The FDCPA creates substantive rights for consumers; violations cause injury to consumers, and such injuries are concrete and particularized. Quinn v. Specialized Loan Servicing, LLC, No. 16 C 2021, 2016 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 107299 *8-13 (N.D. Ill. Aug. 11, 2016) (rejecting challenge to Plaintiff's standing based upon alleged FDCPA statutory violation); Lane v. Bayview Loan Servicing, LLC, No. 15 C 10446, 2016 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 89258 *9-10 (N.D. Ill. July 11, 2016) ("When a federal statute is violated, and especially when Congress has created a cause of action for its violation, by definition Congress has created a legally protected interest that it deems important enough for a lawsuit."); Church v. Accretive Health, Inc., No. 15-15708, 2016 U.S. App. LEXIS 12414 *7-11 (11th Cir. July 6, 2016) (same); see also Mogg v. Jacobs, No. 15-CV-1142-JPG-DGW, 2016 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 33229, 2016 WL 1029396, at *5 (S.D. Ill. Mar. 15, 2016) ("Congress does have the power to enact statutes creating legal rights, the invasion of which creates standing, even though no injury would exist without the statute," (quoting Sterk v. Redbox Automated Retail, LLC, 770 F.3d 618, 623 (7th Cir. 2014))). For this reason, and to encourage consumers to bring FDCPA actions, Congress authorized an award of statutory damages for violations. 15 U.S.C. § 1692k(a).

37. Moreover, Congress has explicitly described the FDCPA as regulating "abusive practices" in debt collection. 15 U.S.C. §§ 1692(a) – 1692(e). Any person who receives a debt collection letter containing a violation of the FDCPA is a victim of abusive practices. See 15 U.S.C. §§ 1692(e) ("It is the purpose of this subchapter to eliminate abusive debt collection practices by debt collectors, to insure that those debt collectors who refrain from using abusive debt collection practices are not competitively disadvantaged, and to promote consistent State action to protect consumers against debt collection abuses”).

38. 15 U.S.C. § 1692e generally prohibits “any false, deceptive, or misleading representation or means in connection with the collection of any debt.”

39. 15 U.S.C. § 1692e(2) specifically prohibits the “false representation of the character, amount, or legal status” of an alleged debt, or the “false representation of...compensation which may be lawfully received by any debt collector for the collection” of an alleged debt.

40. 15 U.S.C. § 1692e(5) specifically prohibits threatening “to take any action that cannot legally be taken or that is not intended to be taken.”

41. 15 U.S.C. § 1692e(10) specifically prohibits the “use of any false representation or deceptive means to collect or attempt to collect any debt.”

42. 15 U.S.C. § 1692f generally prohibits “unfair or unconscionable means to collect or attempt to collect any debt.”

COUNT I – FDCPA

43. Plaintiff incorporates by reference as if fully set forth herein the allegations contained in the preceding paragraphs of this Complaint.

44. Exhibit A includes false statements to the effect that the settlement offer is for a limited time only.

45. Upon information and belief, the creditor and/or Carson Smithfield would settle Plaintiff’s and class members’ debts at the offered discount and likely for less at any time, regardless of the supposed deadline.

46. Defendant violated 15 U.S.C. §§ 1692e, 1692e(10) and 1692f.

COUNT II -- FDCPA

47. Plaintiff incorporates by reference as if fully set forth herein the allegations contained in the preceding paragraphs of this Complaint.

48. The statement on Exhibit A that the settlement payment must be made “on or before November 30, 2016” conflicts with and overshadows the debt validation notice, in that it demands a payment within the validation period or shortly thereafter, but does not explain how the validation notice and settlement “deadline” fit together. 15 U.S.C. § 1692g; Bartlett, 128 F.3d at 500.

49. Exhibit A is confusing, deceptive, and/or misleading to the unsophisticated consumer.

50. 15 U.S.C. § 1692g(b) states, in part:

(b) Disputed debts

Any collection activities and communication during the 30-day period may not overshadow or be inconsistent with the disclosure of the consumer’s right to dispute the debt or request the name and address of the original creditor.

51. 15 U.S.C. § 1692e provides, in relevant part: “A debt collector may not use any false, deceptive, or misleading representation or means in connection with the collection of any debt.”

52. 15 U.S.C. § 1692e(10) prohibits: “The use of any false representation or deceptive means to collect or attempt to collect any debt or to obtain information concerning a consumer.

53. Defendants violated 15 U.S.C. §§ 1692e, 1692e(10) and 1692g.

CLASS ALLEGATIONS

54. Plaintiff brings this action on behalf of a Class, consisting of (a) all natural persons in the State of Wisconsin (b) who were sent an initial collection letter in the form represented by Exhibit A to the complain in this action, (c) seeking to collect a debt for personal, family or household purposes, (d) between November 18, 2015, and November 18, 2016, inclusive, (e) that was not returned by the postal service.

55. The Class is so numerous that joinder is impracticable. Upon information and belief, there are more than 50 members of the Class.

56. There are questions of law and fact common to the members of the class, which common questions predominate over any questions that affect only individual class members. The predominant common question is whether the Defendant complied with 15 U.S.C. §§ 1692e, 1692e(10) and 1692f.

57. Plaintiff's claims are typical of the claims of the Class members. All are based on the same factual and legal theories.

58. Plaintiff will fairly and adequately represent the interests of the Class members. Plaintiff has retained counsel experienced in consumer credit and debt collection abuse cases.

59. A class action is superior to other alternative methods of adjudicating this dispute. Individual cases are not economically feasible.

JURY DEMAND

60. Plaintiff hereby demands a trial by jury.

PRAYER FOR RELIEF

WHEREFORE, Plaintiff requests that the Court enter judgment in favor of Plaintiff and the Class and against Defendant for:

- (a) actual damages;
- (b) statutory damages;
- (c) attorneys' fees, litigation expenses and costs of suit; and

(d) such other or further relief as the Court deems proper.
